Look What an "Animal Army" There Is.

If all the useful animals in the world were to organize themselves for revolt against the cruelties of man, they would outnumber any human army that could be brought against them, even if every man, woman and child of every race under the sun marched from the four corners of the earth to join its ranks.

Such records as the Department of Agriculture has been able to gather and has just summarized in the department's "crop report," show that the population of useful animals more than equals the estimated population of the earth.

Gen. Bellweather could organize his sheep into a division of 580,000,000 and outnumber the Chinese by more than a hundred million. The horse could have a cavalry division of more than 95,000,000 with a corps of 7,000,000 mules to bring supplies to the front. About 100,000,000 goats could furnish milk and wool, while 21,000,000 buffaloes could stamp out Spain man by man. Meanwhile 2,000,000 camels could campaign in their familiar conditions of deserts and dry places and 900,000 hardy reindeer could sweep the Northern climes.

There are, as nearly as can be estimated, 1,500,000,000 useful animals in the world, including, in addition to those above mentioned, enormous numbers of cattle and four-footed hogs.

The United States leads in the population of swine with about 50,000,000, a third of all in the world. Australia leads with 88,000,000 sheep and the United States is third with 57,000,000.

While the United States ranks second to British India in cattle with about 70,000,000, it leads in number of useful animals—the horse and in the greatest aid to commerce—the hog.

The Best Hour of Life.

Is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, Rocky Mt., N. C., when he was suffering intensely, he says, "from the worst cold I ever had." I then proved to my great satisfaction what a wonderful Cold and Cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For, after taking one bottle I was entirely cured. You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." Its the surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, Hemorrhages, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hay Fever or any throat or lung trouble. 50c., $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store.

Philadelphia is in the throes of a street-car strike, which has completely tied up traffic and stagnated business. Rioting broke out in three different sections of the city and several persons were hurt by flying sticks and stones. Fears of violence following the declaration of a general strike at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon led to the extra police precautions.

The Federal grand jury at Covington returned indictments against 12 men of Dry Ridge for alleged conspiracy in restraint of trade. One of the men indicted is John S. Steers, a member of the State Legislature. The indictment charges that the defendants conspired to prevent W. T. Osborne from shipping four hogsheads of tobacco to Cincinnati.

Votes for women, coats for women, Hats for women, too; Clothes for women, beaux for women Any kind will do.

Hips for women, trips for women, Timely winter jaunts. 'Tis inhuman to rob woman Of a thing she wants.

Struck A Rich Mine.

S. W. Bonds, of Coal City, Ala., says he struck a perfect mine of health in Dr. King's New Life Pills for they cured him of Liver and Kidney trouble after 12 years of suffering. They are the best pills on earth for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia, Debility. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Isn't it time to retire the expression "as high as a cat's back" in favor of "as high as hog meat," especially in view of the fact that cats are said to be served as rabbits in the cheap French restaurants?—Courier-Journal.

Difficulty is being experienced by Japanese banks in finding employment for their deposits. The First Bank is said to have 8,600,000 yen ($4,300,000) lying idle and the Mitsui Bank 7,200,000 yen ($3,600,000.)

If after breathing Hyomei, the great antiseptic, you are not rid of vile catarrh, G. L. Penny will return your money. Complete outfit $1. Extra bottles 50c.

"What are you going to give up for Lent?" "The same things I gave up at New Year's."

The Q. & C. operators have been given an advance of 10 per cent. in their salaries.

POLITICAL.

Edward B. Hager, of Ashland, is a candidate for Congress in the Ninth district.

The second of the Bosworth-Wyatt good road measures passed the Kentucky Senate by a vote of 21 to 10, Friday.

Joseph Linney, former postmaster of Danville, has been appointed deputy internal revenue collector at Sacramento, Cal.

The Kentucky House of Representatives again defeated a resolution to make the County Unit Bill a special order of business.

Col. Jack Chinn bitterly excoriated the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League in a speech in the House of Representatives Friday. He compared them to "bunco-steerers."

The time having expired for entries into the democratic primary for Congress in the First district, and Ollie M. James being the only announced candidate for the position, he will be declared the nominee on Feb. 24.

The third legislator of New York, who, it is charged by Senator Ben Conger, was bribed by the bridge building combine, was S. Fred Nixon. Nixon, who has since died, was speaker of the lower house and a power in Empire State politics.

The Senate committee on appropriations reported adversely on Senator Combs' bill to appropriate $25,000 per year for a State fair at Lexington. It also reported adversely on the bill to appropriate $200,000 for new buildings for the State fair at Louisville.

"My present intention is never again to seek office at the hands of the people of Kentucky," said Lieut. Gov. William Cox from his seat as presiding officer of the Senate. This means that Judge E. C. O'Rear will be the republican nominee for governor the next time.

The rivers and harbors appropriation bill was taken up in earnest Saturday by the Senate Committee on Commerce. It was decided to go through the House bill and give consideration to all of the projects approved by the House before taking up any Senate amendments.

Four administration measures are assured of passage at this session of Congress. After conferences with Senators and Representatives, President Taft told callers that he felt certain the amendment to the interstate commerce act, the postal savings bank bill, the anti-injunction propositions and the statehood bill will go through.

Why not a Legislative committee to investigate the lobbyists at Frankfort? It is not necessary to give all the spare moments to Senator J. J. Watkins for hinting about them. The people of the State know Senator Watkins pretty well, and believe him full of enthusiasm for the temperance cause, with honest purposes and good motives.—Lancaster Record.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Milton T. Smith, a Boyle county farmer, is dead of paralysis.

Mrs. T. C. Coleman, a well-known woman of Mercer county, is dead, aged 75.

Charles W. Sweeney, aged 75, is dead in the Phil section of Casey county.

Mrs. Geo. W. Bailey, formerly of East Bernstadt, died in Louisville of pneumonia.

James A. Hamm, aged 21, is dead of consumption in the Level Green section of Rockcastle.

Col. E. H. Gaither was slightly cut on the shoulder by Charles Robinson in a personal encounter at Harrodsburg. Dr. H. L. Cartwright, a well-known physician of Burksville, is dead. He formerly practiced medicine in Boyle county.

H. E. Kidd has been appointed postmaster at Kidds Crossing, Wayne county, and Henry C. Bardin at Chance, Adair county.

The barber shop of Gus Myers, near the Danville depot, was entered and 40 razors, seven bottles of hair oil and 10 razor strops were taken. The bold thief wrote in large letters upon the mirror, "Thanks, Gus."

W. O. Dunlap, a popular and well-known young man, died suddenly of heart trouble in his front yard at Lancaster Thursday morning. He was a step-son of Dr. B. F. Walter and a brother-in-law of James I. Hamilton.

Jack McKinney shot and killed his brother-in-law, George Harper, in the eastern part of Pulaski. Harper was, so reports say, abusing McKinney's father, when Jack McKinney appeared on the scene, drew a revolver and shot Harper dead. A grudge had existed between the men for a long time.

The fact can no longer be concealed, or ignored, that there is an epidemic of smallpox in Laurel county. Starting with a few isolated cases, without the use of precaution against its spreading, there are now numbers of cases at East Bernstadt, Viva and Pittsburg, vicinity of London and other parts of the county.—London Democrat.

NEWS NOTES.

Thomas Satterwhite, a veteran riverman, is dead in Louisville.

Between 18 and 20 inches of snow fell in Cincinnati Thursday and Thursday night.

Mrs. W. S. Gill, an aged woman of Bowling Green, died while sitting on the side of her bed dressing.

Near Cloverport, Alonzo Dowell shot and killed his son-in-law. The men fell out over the rent of a farm.

The oldest Odd Fellow in Kentucky, Martin Schmidt, of Louisville, celebrated his 89th birthday Friday.

An epidemic of diphtheria in Bath county has caused the closing of schools and abandonment of public gatherings.

Gen. Mulholland, who had been United States pension agent in the city of Philadelphia since 1894, is dead, aged 71.

Dispatches to Dun's Review testify to encouraging prospects for an active spring trade, but present conditions are rather irregular.

Four prisoners cut their way out of the jail at Cadiz and escaped. Bloodhounds were put on their trail but failed to find the men.

Miss Agnes Leslie Elkins, niece of United States Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, who shot herself at Kansas City, died of her wounds.

A heavily-loaded cigar given him as a joke by his companions may cause Everett Rector, a young farmer of Bourbon county, to lose the sight of both eyes.

Women of Dawson Springs have organized a society for the purpose of erecting a $10,000 brick building for the graded school. Funds are being subscribed rapidly.

Dr. Cook has at last been "discovered," turning up in Santiago, Chili. He still maintains that he reached the pole and is preparing a complete account of the expedition, which he says will prove it.

Col. Roosevelt and the others of the Smithsonian African scientific expedition, arrived at Gondoroko Thursday. All are well and enthusiastic over their experiences and the scientific results of their explorations.

While returning from a "joy ride" in West Philadelphia, James Graham, 19 years old, was killed by the automobile crashing into a telegraph pole. Three other occupants of the car, two of whom were women, were injured.

C. W. Armour, president of the Armour Packing Co., of Kansas City, contended before Special Examiner Daniel Dillon in an investigation of the meat packers that competition fixed the price at which meats were sold.

Charles Atherton, known as the top boss at the St. Paul coal mine at Cherry, Ill., was shot and probably fatally wounded by a discharged employe. The shooting occurred while the bodies of entombed miners were being recovered.

All hope that the missing United States navy tug Nina, which left Norfolk Feb. 6, bound for Boston, with 32 persons aboard, is still afloat, has been abandoned by the Navy Department, and the warships which for five days have searched for the Nina were ordered to discontinue.

Robert Barr, Jr., a farmer, was indicted by the Nicholas county grand jury, charging him with being implicated in the murder of Hiram Hedges, which occurred during a night rider raid about two years ago. Barr, it is said, stated that he could prove an alibi.

Continuing his cross examination of Louis R. Glavis at the resumption of the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry, counsel for Secretary Ballinger drew from the witness the fact that up to the time Mr. Ballinger went out of office as Land Commissioner in March, 1908, there had been no evidence of fraud in the Alaska coal cases presented to the department.

John G. Paxton, in a sensational answer filed in the circuit court at Independence, Mo., accuses Dr. B. C. Hyde of bad faith in trying to secure evidence in his (Paxton's) possession "tending to prove that the plaintiff has murdered, by the administration of poison, Thomas H. Swope and Chrisman Swope; has also attempted to poison Margaret Swope, and by the same kind of treatment had communicated to the members of the Swope family typhoid fever."

Life on Panama Canal

Has had one frightful drawback—malaria trouble that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "Three bottles completely cured me of a very severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C. "and I've had good health ever since." Cures Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles and prevents typhoid. 50c. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store.

Some Nice Things Papers are Saying Over the State of the Sale Of the I. J.

Shelton M. Sauley has purchased the Stanford Interior Journal and will assume the management as soon as the Legislature adjourns. Mr. Sauley is one of the most capable newspaper men in the State and a genial gentleman. The INTERIOR JOURNAL falls into good hands. Mr. Sauley has been in Frankfort a number of years and is well equipped for his editorial duties by his knowledge of State affairs and wide acquaintance.—Paducah Sun.

Mr. S. M. Sauley, of the Frankfort News, has purchased of Mr. E. C. Walton the INTERIOR JOURNAL at Stanford. This paper was formerly edited by Mr. W. P. Walton, lately of the Lexington Gazette, and has been in the Walton family for years. Mr. Sauley has had considerable experience in the newspaper business and is a bright, hustling and up-to-date young man. We wish him unlimited success in his new venture.—Lawrenceburg News.

After making the INTERIOR JOURNAL one of the best local papers in Central Kentucky for years, E. C. Walton sells the plant to Shelton M. Sauley, who will take charge after the adjournment of the Legislature.

While we feel confident that Mr. Sauley will prove a worthy successor to so popular and successful a newspaper man, yet Mr. Walton's retirement will be regretted by the people of Garrard county, where he has many friends who have read his paper for years with much satisfaction.

Here's greeting to you, Mr. Sauley; we welcome you as our neighbor.—Lancaster Record.

Shelton M. Sauley, managing editor of the Frankfort Daily News, has purchased the Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL of E. C. Walton. After a varied newspaper experience in Lexington and Frankfort, Mr. Sauley returns to his home town and buys the excellent paper in whose office he started as the devil. He has impressed us as a young man of marked journalistic ability and we believe he will make a pronounced success of his ownership of the INTERIOR JOURNAL. Mr. Walton, whom he succeeds, has made it at all times a high-class paper, and Mr. Sauley's task will, therefore, not be difficult.—Owensboro Messenger.

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove its a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains and corns. Try it. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

SHELTON M. SAUFLEY, OWNER.

HON. HARVEY HELM, of Lincoln county, is a candidate for re-nomination for Congress from the Eighth district, subject to the action of the democratic party.

THE EDITOR'S FRANKFORT LETTER.

FRANKFORT, FEB. 21.—Both Houses of the General Assembly have certainly "played ball" with the County Unit bill since last report. While the friends of the bill really accomplished little, they had the opposition on the anxious seat at several stages of the game. Had it not been that two Senators—B. M. Arnett, of Jessamine county, and R. M. Salmon, of Hopkins county—conveniently left the chamber at a crucial point, and did not vote, the County Unit bill would have been rescued from its burying ground in the Religion and Morals committee and been ready for a vote on its passage. Gov. Cox ruled, upon the insistence of Senator Thomas, of Bourbon, that when a committee had delayed action on a bill for an unreasonable length of time, that any member was given the right by the constitution, to call the bill out of Committee. Cox said that the committee had delayed too long on the County Unit bill, so ordered it out. Senator Combs, of Lexington, appealed from his ruling and by a vote of 18 to 16 the Senate refused to sustain Cox, and the opportunity was lost. Had Arnett and Salmon remained in the chamber and voted to sustain the chair, as they said afterward they would have done, the tie vote would have sustained it, and the County Unit bill would probably have been passed in the Senate by now. Its friends are much more encouraged since they have found a loophole, however, and say that before the session is ended they will be able to get it out.

JACK CHINN EXPLAINS IT.

While the Senators were buffeting about the badly battered bill, its friends were trying to get it up as special order for a vote in the House, but again their effort was futile, through failure to poll a two-thirds majority vote. Col. Jack Chinn, of Mercer, told a few truths about the matter on this attempt, declaring that the friends of the County Unit bill had only their own leaders to blame for its condition now. He recalled how Collins and Young, the erstwhile anti-saloon leaders at Louisville, had sent out telegrams just before the 1907 State election, advising the ministers of the State to instruct their congregations to vote the republican ticket or stay at home, since the democrats had sold out to the liquor interests. He pointed out how this advice had been accepted, and the republican State ticket and many prohibition republican representatives elected, who immediately came to Frankfort and voted for W. O. Bradley, an attorney for the whisky interests, for United States Senator and elected him. He said that this betrayal by the Anti-Saloon League leaders had cost the election of J. C. S. Beckham, a democrat, who would have been elected Senator but for that, and have stood at Washington for six years, voting for every temperance measure that arose. He said that to cap the climax, the anti-saloon leaders "fred" Rev. M. B. Adams as president of their league because he had denounced this betrayal.

Col. Chinn was out for scalps with "blood in his eye" and he made the temperance leaders admit that there was much merit in what he had said and many concede that the democrats have strong reason for refusing to support anything that the anti saloon league leaders are now asking. This double-dealing of the anti saloon league leaders is exactly what is the trouble now in the Legislature, Rev. M. B. Adams admitted to the I. J. man, when Col. Chinn had concluded his remarks.

ANOTHER MESSAGE FROM WILLSON.

Governor Willson sent in another message to the Legislature Friday, in which he urged the issue of a half a million dollars in bonds and interest-bearing warrants to pay off the State's indebtedness. The Governor thinks that this double-barrel action is needed to put the State's credit on a firm footing again. He would have the bond issue applied to payment of the sums due State institutions, while the interest-bearing warrants can be used for liquidating other debts that the bond issue won't cover. Governor Willson is a nice old fellow; no doubt of it, but in the opinion of most of the members of the General Assembly, and most of the members of his own republican administration, too, what he don't know about practical statecraft would fill several volumes. The Governor means well, very well; but the practical men of the administration generally won't accept the gubernatorial dictum at the same value as they do the personal equation of the good old soul. Gov. Willson is much worried over the financial straits that the republican administration finds itself in after two years of service, and he is going to essay every avenue of escape from the consequences which presents itself.

WON'T ENDORSE HIM.

The valuation which his fellow republican leaders place upon his policies of administration can be gauged in no surer way than through the fact that whoever the republican nominee for governor to succeed Willson is, it's a ten-to-one shot that he will not make his fight before the people upon an endorsement of the Willson policies. Judge E. C. O'Rear, who is chiefly mentioned in connection with the nomination, has taken the opposite side from Gov. Willson on almost every public question which has arisen during the present administration. The Willson regime had hardly begun before O'Rear opposed openly the Governor's program to curb the night riders; and they have not been in sympathy since. Lieutenant Governor Cox, another possible candidate, has almost openly disapproved of many of the Willson policies and indicated in private conversations what entirely different views he held on certain public questions. Commissioner of Agriculture Merrell C. Rankin, who is almost certain to be a candidate for Governor, had a hard time restraining the impulse to make open rebuke to the Governor, when he issued his famous pronouncement offering pardon before trial to anyone who might kill a night rider.

RANKIN IS STRONG.

And, in passing, it is not untimely to say that in Commissioner Rankin is going to be found a candidate whom, the other seekers after the republican gubernatorial nomination, are going to find a strong contender. Judge O'Rear's speeches for temperance in county unit local option elections, and his defense of the tobacco growers' right to organize to sell their crops, have brought him prominently into the limelight, and he seems to have both these elements heartily for him. However, Rankin has proven himself repeatedly just as strong a friend of temperance as O'Rear, and his work as Commissioner of Agriculture has brought him into much closer touch with the tobacco growers, and deeper into the very heart of their organization than O'Rear has ever gotten. Rankin was one of the charter members of the Burley Tobacco Society and has proven over and over his friendship for them. Some of the republican leaders are not inclined to look seriously upon him in connection with the matter, but the old-fashioned farmer from Henry county is going to fool them all when the time comes for a show of strength for that nomination, which, after all, seems likely to prove a very empty bauble, to him who gains it.

A TERROR TO EVIL-DOERS.

Over at Covington the poolroom operators, gamblers and other law-breakers have just been given a few thrills, the like of which they have not experienced in many years. A new Commonwealth's Attorney has been inducted into office in the person of R. G. Williams, an old Rockcastle boy, and known and loved in Lincoln as well. Mr. Williams hardly took his oath of office, before he set out to fulfill it and he has made things hum for the evil-doers ever since. He was in Frankfort the other day with his brother, Attorney C. C. Williams, of Mt. Vernon, and was warmly congratulated for the good work he is doing.

"I intend to put the pool-rooms out of business," Mr. Williams said to the I. J. "The law is against them and I am going to uphold it. There is no worse curse in the country to the young man than the pool-rooms, and they have got to go."

Attorney John W. Brown, who has the honor of representing the L. & N. railroad in Rockcastle, was here the same day, and given a hearty greeting by his many friends. The three Rockcastle visitors inspected the new capitol and watched the Legislature at work.

BOTH the Vice and Watkins County Unit measures were practically killed in the Kentucky Senate Thursday. The Vice bill was reported by the Committee on Religion and Morals without expression. The Watkins bill brought out a spirited debate, which resulted in an appeal from President Cox's ruling. The appeal was sustained. When election time comes again some of those responsible for the killing of these important measures will have to do a lot of explaining or their opponents will be elected. The temperance folks are monstrous tired of such underhand methods to thwart the will of the people.

REPORTS from Washington say that the republican leaders, from the President down, fully realize the serious conditions which confront the party in the face of the approaching Congressional campaign and are resorting to every possible means to stay the unfavorable tide. The Allds scandal and factional feuds in New York, the printing fraud charges in Ohio and the far-reaching effects of the ugly Ballinger investigation is greatly adding to the embarrassments of an already serious situation.

STATISTICS show that the women of the North and East smoke a half million dollars' worth of cigarettes in a year. It is more than probable that the female lips that touch the little coffin nails are not fit to kiss to start with. After the habit is on, kissing the cat would be a pleasurable pastime to touching your lips to theirs.

GIVE THE VOTERS A CHANCE.

ONE of the most astute politicians in Kentucky is Judge E. C. O'Rear, of the Court of Appeals, as he is one of the most capable of judges. For some time the gubernatorial bee has been buzzing in his bonnet, but when he saw the State go so overwhelmingly democratic at the November election last, he decided that a republican would stand but little show for election if he ran for governor and so quietly gave it out that he would not be a candidate. But a change has come over the spirit of his dreams, and it is now said he is anxious to make the race if the nomination will be given him without a scramble. The reason is apparent. He has seen the democrats, as Gen. Grant used to say, make fools of themselves always at the right time to kill their prospects.

Judge O'Rear is a pronounced prohibitionist, as well as a strong republican. He has seen a few men stifle the hope of the masses for a chance to vote whisky entirely out, and believing that they will resent the efforts of these men in behalf of the liquor interests by wreaking vengeance on the party responsible for it, thinks that a republican with his prohibition record has a splendid chance to win again for governor. We hope he is mistaken, but if he is not it will not be because the leaders in the Senate have not done everything in their power to make such a result possible.

It is not too late yet for them to read the handwriting on the wall. The people want to be given a chance to pass upon the liquor question and they will not be satisfied until they do. Let the Legislators who are working for the saloons get wise and give the people a chance, or they will go down in deserved oblivion with adjournment of the General Assembly.

THE endless letter chain scheme has been adopted by a Newport man to obtain a pardon for Henry Youtsey, who is serving a life term in prison for the murder of Gov. Goebel. A good, stout rope is what Youtsey and all others need who had a hand in assassinating Gov. Goebel. It is a pity that men will let sentiment get the better of their judgment. Youtsey admitted that he took part in the murder of Gov. Goebel and there is no reason why he should not be made to suffer the consequences.

THE Senate has voted to abolish the State revenue agents and now if the House will follow suit many sins of omission and commission chargeable against the General Assembly may be forgiven. That these cormorants shall not be longer legalized to prey upon the people and the State is a consummation devoutly to be wished.

A NEW YORK bishop admonishes his members to deny themselves the reading of newspapers during Lent. This is asking too much sacrifice. In these days of newspaper necessity few there will be who will obey the suggestion.

THAT good paper, The Somerset Times, has just passed the fourth milestone in the journey of life. May it live forever and its clever editor never die.

While thawing out ten cases of dynamite at Cedar Grove, two miles south of Somerset, the whole cargo exploded, blowing to pieces Alitta Falanti and J. Dorifassa, two Italian employees. The explosion shook the buildings in Somerset with such force as to awake the residents and cause much alarm, the people there believing it to be an earthquake.

"Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, will be the next democratic nominee for president, and Gov. Marshall, of Indiana, will probably occupy the second place on the ticket," is the forecast of Col. John W. Tomlinson, of Birmingham, Ala., who is a member of the Democratic National Committee.

Cal Perry, city marshal of Blanchard, Okla., was shot and seriously wounded in a battle with seven robbers, who had blown up the vault of the First Virginia Bank. The robbers escaped on hand cars.

John Woods, ex-county attorney of Boyd county, will make the race for the democratic nomination for attorney general.

Mrs. Louisa Atkinson, aged 82, is dead at Richmond after a short illness. Neil Burgess, the actor, is dead in New York.

Carson, I, or one of my deputies, will on Monday the 14th day of March, 1910, between the hours of 1 o'clock p. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., at the court house door in Stanford, Lincoln county, Ky., expose to public sale to the highest bidder the following property (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of the plaintiff's debt, interest and costs), to wit: Fourteen acres of land in Lincoln county, Ky., situated near the Stanford and Hustonville pike and bounded by the lands of Everett Carson, S. J. Dayton and J. R. Murphy.

This execution is for $275.48, with interest from July 3, 1907, and the cost of this action levied upon the property of J. K. Carson. Terms—Sale will be made on a credit of six months; bond with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from day of sale, and having the force and effect of a replevin bond, this 9th day of February, 1910.

THE EDITOR'S FRANKFORT LETTER.

FRANKFORT, FEB. 21.—Both Houses of the General Assembly have certainly "played ball" with the County Unit bill since last report. While the friends of the bill really accomplished little, they had the opposition on the anxious seat at several stages of the game. Had it not been that two Senators—B. M. Arnett, of Jessamine county, and R. M. Salmon, of Hopkins county—conveniently left the chamber at a crucial point, and did not vote, the County Unit bill would have been rescued from its burying ground in the Religion and Morals committee and been ready for a vote on its passage. Gov. Cox ruled, upon the insistence of Senator Thomas, of Bourbon, that when a committee had delayed action on a bill for an unreasonable length of time, that any member was given the right by the constitution, to call the bill out of Committee. Cox said that the committee had delayed too long on the County Unit bill, so ordered it out. Senator Combs, of Lexington, appealed from his ruling and by a vote of 18 to 16 the Senate refused to sustain Cox, and the opportunity was lost. Had Arnett and Salmon remained in the chamber and voted to sustain the chair, as they said afterward they would have done, the tie vote would have sustained it, and the County Unit bill would probably have been passed in the Senate by now. Its friends are much more encouraged since they have found a loophole, however, and say that before the session is ended they will be able to get it out.

JACK CHINN EXPLAINS IT.

While the Senators were buffeting about the badly battered bill, its friends were trying to get it up as special order for a vote in the House, but again their effort was futile, through failure to poll a two-thirds majority vote. Col. Jack Chinn, of Mercer, told a few truths about the matter on this attempt, declaring that the friends of the County Unit bill had only their own leaders to blame for its condition now. He recalled how Collins and Young, the erstwhile anti-saloon leaders at Louisville, had sent out telegrams just before the 1907 State election, advising the ministers of the State to instruct their congregations to vote the republican ticket or stay at home, since the democrats had sold out to the liquor interests. He pointed out how this advice had been accepted, and the republican State ticket and many prohibition republican representatives elected, who immediately came to Frankfort and voted for W. O. Bradley, an attorney for the whisky interests, for United States Senator and elected him. He said that this betrayal by the Anti-Saloon League leaders had cost the election of J. C. S. Beckham, a democrat, who would have been elected Senator but for that, and have stood at Washington for six years, voting for every temperance measure that arose. He said that to cap the climax, the anti-saloon leaders "fired" Rev. M. B. Adams as president of their league because he had denounced this betrayal.

Col. Chinn was out for scalps with "blood in his eye" and he made the temperance leaders admit that there was much merit in what he had said and many concede that the democrats have strong reason for refusing to support anything that the anti saloon league leaders are now asking. This double-dealing of the anti saloon league leaders is exactly what is the trouble now in the Legislature, Rev. M. B. Adams admitted to the I. J. man, when Col. Chinn had concluded his remarks.

ANOTHER MESSAGE FROM WILLSON.

Governor Willson sent in another message to the Legislature Friday, in which he urged the issue of a half a million dollars in bonds and interest-bearing warrants to pay off the State's indebtedness. The Governor thinks that this double-barrel action is needed to put the State's credit on a firm footing again. He would have the bond issue applied to payment of the sums due State institutions, while the interest-bearing warrants can be used for liquidating other debts that the bond issue won't cover. Governor Willson is a nice old fellow; no doubt of it, but in the opinion of most of the members of the General Assembly, and most of the members of his own republican administration, too, what he don't know about practical statecraft would fill several volumes. The Governor means well, very well; but the practical men of the administration generally won't accept the gubernatorial dictum at the same value as they do the personal equation of the good old soul. Gov. Willson is much worried over the financial straits that the republican administration finds itself in after two years of service, and he is going to essay every avenue of escape from the consequences which presents itself.

WON'T ENDORSE HIM.

The valuation which his fellow republican leaders place upon his policies of administration can be gauged in no

surer way than through the fact that whoever the republican nominee for governor to succeed Willson is, it's a ten-to-one shot that he will not make his fight before the people upon an endorsement of the Willson policies. Judge E. C. O'Rear, who is chiefly mentioned in connection with the nomination, has taken the opposite side from Gov. Willson on almost every public question which has arisen during the present administration. The Willson regime had hardly begun before O'Rear opposed openly the Governor's program to curb the night riders; and they have not been in sympathy since. Lieutenant Governor Cox, another possible candidate, has almost openly disapproved of many of the Willson policies and indicated in private conversations what entirely different views he held on certain public questions. Commissioner of Agriculture Merrell C. Rankin, who is almost certain to be a candidate for Governor, had a hard time restraining the impulse to make open rebuke to the Governor, when he issued his famous pronouncement offering pardon before trial to anyone who might kill a night rider.

RANKIN IS STRONG.

And, in passing, it is not untimely to say that in Commissioner Rankin is going to be found a candidate whom, the other seekers after the republican gubernatorial nomination, are going to find a strong contender. Judge O'Rear's speeches for temperance in county unit local option elections, and his defense of the tobacco growers' right to organize to sell their crops, have brought him prominently into the limelight, and he seems to have both these elements heartily for him. However, Rankin has proven himself repeatedly just as strong a friend of temperance as O'Rear, and his work as Commissioner of Agriculture has brought him into much closer touch with the tobacco growers, and deeper into the very heart of their organization than O'Rear has ever gotten. Rankin was one of the charter members of the Burley Tobacco Society and has proven over and over his friendship for them. Some of the republican leaders are not inclined to look seriously upon him in connection with the matter, but the old-fashioned farmer from Henry county is going to fool them all when the time comes for a show of strength for that nomination, which, after all, seems likely to prove a very empty bauble, to him who gains it.

A TERROR TO EVIL-DOERS.

Over at Covington the poolroom operators, gamblers and other law-breakers have just been given a few thrills, the like of which they have not experienced in many years. A new Commonwealth's Attorney has been inducted into office in the person of R. G. Williams, an old Rockcastle boy, and known and loved in Lincoln as well. Mr. Williams hardly took his oath of office, before he set out to fulfill it and he has made things hum for the evil-doers ever since. He was in Frankfort the other day with his brother, Attorney C. C. Williams, of Mt. Vernon, and was warmly congratulated for the good work he is doing.

"I intend to put the pool-rooms out of business," Mr. Williams said to the I. J. "The law is against them and I am going to uphold it. There is no worse curse in the country to the young man than the pool-rooms, and they have got to go."

Attorney John W. Brown, who has the honor of representing the L. & N. railroad in Rockcastle, was here the same day, and given a hearty greeting by his many friends. The three Rockcastle visitors inspected the new capitol and watched the Legislature at work.

S. M. S.

BOTH the Vice and Watkins County Unit measures were practically killed in the Kentucky Senate Thursday. The Vice bill was reported by the Committee on Religion and Morals without expression. The Watkins bill brought out a spirited debate, which resulted in an appeal from President Cox's ruling. The appeal was sustained. When election time comes again some of those responsible for the killing of these important measures will have to do a lot of explaining or their opponents will be elected. The temperance folks are monstrous tired of such underhand methods to thwart the will of the people.

REPORTS from Washington say that the republican leaders, from the President down, fully realize the serious conditions which confront the party in the face of the approaching Congressional campaign and are resorting to every possible means to stay the unfavorable tide. The Allds scandal and factional feuds in New York, the printing fraud charges in Ohio and the far-reaching effects of the ugly Ballinger investigation is greatly adding to the embarrassments of an already serious situation.

STATISTICS show that the women of the North and East smoke a half million dollars' worth of cigarettes in a year. It is more than probable that the female lips that touch the little coffin nails are not fit to kiss to start with. After the habit is on, kissing the cat would be a pleasurable pastime to touching your lips to theirs.

GIVE THE VOTERS A CHANCE.

ONE of the most astute politicians in Kentucky is Judge E. C. O'Rear, of the Court of Appeals, as he is one of the most capable of judges. For some time the gubernatorial bee has been buzzing in his bonnet, but when he saw the State go so overwhelmingly democratic at the November election last, he decided that a republican would stand but little show for election if he ran for governor and so quietly gave it out that he would not be a candidate. But a change has come over the spirit of his dreams, and it is now said he is anxious to make the race if the nomination will be given him without a scramble. The reason is apparent. He has seen the democrats, as Gen. Grant used to say, make fools of themselves always at the right time to kill their prospects.

Judge O'Rear is a pronounced prohibitionist, as well as a strong republican. He has seen a few men stifle the hope of the masses for a change to vote whisky entirely out, and believing that they will resent the efforts of these men in behalf of the liquor interests by wreaking vengeance on the party responsible for it, thinks that a republican with his prohibition record has a splendid chance to win again for governor. We hope he is mistaken, but if he is not it will not be because the leaders in the Senate have not done everything in their power to make such a result possible.

It is not too late yet for them to read the handwriting on the wall. The people want to be given a chance to pass upon the liquor question and they will not be satisfied until they do. Let the Legislators who are working for the saloons get wise and give the people a chance, or they will go down in deserved oblivion with adjournment of the General Assembly.

THE endless letter chain scheme has been adopted by a Newport man to obtain a pardon for Henry Youtsey, who is serving a life term in prison for the murder of Gov. Goebel. A good, stout rope is what Youtsey and all others need who had a hand in assassinating Gov. Goebel. It is a pity that men will let sentiment get the better of their judgment. Youtsey admitted that he took part in the murder of Gov. Goebel and there is no reason why he should not be made to suffer the consequences.

THE Senate has voted to abolish the State revenue agents and now if the House will follow suit many sins of omission and commission chargeable against the General Assembly may be forgiven. That these cormorants shall not be longer legalized to prey upon the people and the State is a consummation devoutly to be wished.

THAT good paper, The Somerset Times, has just passed the fourth milestone in the journey of life. May it live forever and its clever editor never die.

While thawing out ten cases of dynamite at Cedar Grove, two miles south of Somerset, the whole cargo exploded, blowing to pieces Alita Falanti and J. Dorifassa, two Italian employees. The explosion shook the buildings in Somerset with such force as to awake the residents and cause much alarm, the people there believing it to be an earth quake.

"Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, will be the next democratic nominee for president, and Gov. Marshall, of Indiana, will probably occupy the second place on the ticket," is the forecast of Col. John W. Tomlinson, of Birmingham, Ala., who is a member of the Democratic National Committee.

Cal Perry, city marshal of Blanchard, Okla., was shot and seriously wounded in a battle with seven robbers, who had blown up the vault of the First Virginia Bank. The robbers escaped on hand cars.

The Great Texas Panhandle.

Rich land is the basis of all wealth. The safest investment and the surest money maker, is rich farming land. God is still resting on the "seventh day." He is not making any more land. The Texas Panhandle is the last of the rich, level land for settlement in this country. Fortunes will be made on the advance in price on these lands in the next few years. Home seekers will go no further when they see it. Swishah county is the garden spot and "pride of the plains." The best watered and the richest land, no clearing or grubbing, no floods or cyclones. High altitude, delightful climate. A proven wheat country. First prize awarded our wheat and oats at the National Corn Exposition at Omaha, Neb. For free illustrated booklet, address JAMES FRYE, SEC. TULSA COMMERCE CLUB, Tulsa, Swisher County Texas.

THIS is Washington's birthday and the banks and postoffice are observing it, as they have a right to. Us poor folks are putting in the usual hours at work.

SATURDAY'S Louisville Times contained a picture of the collision at Waddy, Shelby county, in which Engineer Zan Dudderar, formerly of this place, lost his life.

WE have farms in Hardin county in 50-acre tracts to 900 acres, and prices from $300 to $11,000. These lands produce fine Burley tobacco. Stanford Real Estate Co.

MR. J. C. EUBANKS has bought Mr. W. R. Denham's interest in the Bruce livery stable on Depot street and will erect a large tobacco warehouse—something Stanford has needed for some time—on the site.

WE hope the grand jury will devote some of its time and energy in looking into the illegal sale of whisky in Stanford. There are Negroes here who are getting rich selling booze and it is high time they were called to account for so doing.

115-ACRE farm three miles from Stanford on good pike and in splendid community. In high state of cultivation; has a two-story frame dwelling, new barn and all necessary outbuildings. Place well watered and fenced. Will sell at right figure. Stanford Real Estate Co.

THE drys will contest the whisky election held in Nicholasville last week, when that town went wet 30. Attorneys Robert Harding and E. V. Puryear, of Danville, represent the temperance forces. Illegal voting, interference by police officers and numerous other charges are preferred.

CIRCUIT COURT convened yesterday but nothing worthy of mention was done. The grand jury was not made up on account of so many of those summoned to serve either being sick themselves or having sickness in their families. It is likely that the court will get down to business to-day.

It is a fine of $25 for a person, male or female, under 21 years to enter a saloon at Somerset. The law is rigidly enforced as it should be. By the way we were informed while in Pulaski's capital the other day that the whisky vendors are not getting rich and that at least two of the 13 saloons are not paying expenses. One merchant who favored saloons and voted for the opening of them on the belief that his business would be increased by people who would come to town for booze, now sees the error of his way and is sorry he did not vote "no."

HONS. J. M. ALVERSON, assistant clerk of the Senate, and John Holland, one of the most popular members of the House, gave a box party at the Lexington opera house Thursday evening to see Fritz Scheff. Sterling, Mr. Mack Grimes, of Millersburg, Judge William Dowling, of Lawrenceburg, Mr. George Peters, Mr. Alverson and Mr. Holland. A delicious supper at the Phoenix Hotel after the play and the party returned home in automobiles.—Frankfort Cor. Courier Journal.
